

If every single component performs its task optimally,
the resulting seat will function faultlessly in all its complexity.

This is Ivars' secret,
and indeed its mission.

O-Liner office chair