

Ivars S.p.A. will be present at Interzum 2023.

A long-awaited return to the sector's most important trade fair.

interzum

Interzum, the event held every two years, is approaching: the international trade fair dedicated to the supply of furniture and interior design industry has always served as central communication point par excellence for exchanging ideas and sharing new trends in design and furniture for home and work settings. For Ivars, the exhibition represents an unmissable appointment.

Featuring a highly original selection of new products for seating and an infinite range of accessories, Ivars will be present at the fair with a stand boasting a great visual impact, perfect for showcasing a varied and well-appointed exhibition, along with an exclusive reception area for hosting its customers from around the globe. The return of this event in person is the perfect opportunity to strengthen numerous relationships, and restart with a new spirit and enthusiasm. Indeed, Interzum represents both a starting as well as an end point: it marks the conclusion of the previous year's work, and paves the way for a new cycle of design thanks to the ideas and trends it inspires

As far as the Accessories Division is concerned, the company's strength lies in the extensive range, with items that find application in numerous settings. These include castors, handles, knobs, etc.: those small yet functional and versatile components so essential to a broad range of accessory furniture found in the most diverse settings from houses, schools, hotels to the healthcare industry. Ivars excels in this sector; thanks to its extensive range and the number of accessories it can produce in batches tailored to meet the unique needs of individual customers. The expertise and capacity to offer this variety stems from the fact that all the company's departments, from design to sales, have a strong focus on market needs and customer relations.

Ivars is dynamic and responsive, with a strong emphasis on both the quality and versatility of its products, and their eco-friendly credentials. The use of recycled and recyclable materials – an integral part of the company's philosophy for over 30 years – is increasingly important, and Ivars is committed to complying with the most stringent regulations and their associated updates.

 Ivars Accessories

